Ontario 2012 Budget Introduced

Date: March 27, 2012

On March 27, 2012, the Ontario government tabled its 2012 Budget, "Strong Action For Ontario."

The Budget comes on the heels of the Drummond Report, which was released in mid-February and which recommended sweeping reform measures aimed at increasing efficiencies within the broader public service and the delivery of a variety government programs.

Key components of the Drummond Report are summarized in two previous issues of FTR Now: The Drummond Report – Impact on the Broader Public Sector and Drummond Commission Reports on Elementary and Secondary Education Reform.

We are in the process of reviewing the Budget. An FTR Now discussing the Budget's highlights will be available shortly on our website.
